

FILM ANTHEM (Laudate Dominum)

BRIEF HISTORY:

The music for the film anthem was first composed in 1993 as a welcome song for St. Alberts Catholic church choir's songs festival. The choir then was highly inspired by Sister Eunice Achudime who was present during its composition.

In 1995, just before the first edition of FILM hosted by University of Benin, the music was adopted and adapted for use as the FILM anthem by St. Alberts Choir. The original text had in bars 3 and 4, 'universities' instead of 'higher institutions' as it now reads. The amendment was adopted by FILM general assembly in Jos 2009 so as to reflect the inclusion of Polytechnics, Colleges of Education, Seminaries and other degree awarding institutions. As such, the phrase 'higher institutions' may be modified (if need be) if only one group (e.g. Universities, Polytechnics) meet for a choral function.

The ending of the anthem had always been a major challenge since it was not documented and was left to the artistry of the conductor; Fourteen years later (2009) the end of the anthem would be performed for the very first time.

May God almighty confirm our prayer for unity and dwell in the praises we give unto HIM every time and everywhere we render this Anthem. Amen.
