GLORIA IN EXCELSIS — Attributed to W.A. Mozart
from the "Twelfth Mass"

The Twelfth Mass from which this Gloria is taken is considered a spurious work with uncertainty as to who actually composed it. The Mass was long attributed to Mozart, especially in England, since Novello published it as number twelve in his set of Mozart's masses. The work had also been published at an earlier date by Simrock of Bonn as number seven for he had received the manuscript which he accepted as genuine from a music teacher named Carl Zulehner. Some authorities believe that the work is by Zulehner himself. There are other stories as well as to the origin of the work.

The Gloria itself is a bright, vital statement of praise. It should have a light-handed, bouyant approach in its interpretation. The "forte" sections should be thought of as "fullness of tone" and not oversung, and the "piano" sections must maintain intensity. Care should be taken that the tempo be brisk yet not have a "rushed" feeling.

TRANSLATION

Glory be to God on high, and on earth peace to men of good will. We praise Thee, we bless Thee, we worship Thee, we glorify Thee. We give thanks to Thee for Thy great glory, O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty. O Lord, the only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father.
